The Port of Palm Beach welcome's visiting delegations from Lithuania and Barbados.

WHEN: Friday, March 17, 2006
Lithuania – 9:30 A.M. – 12:00 P.M.
Barbados – 3:00 P.M. – 6:00 P.M.

WHERE: Port of Palm Beach Maritime Office Complex
One East 11th Street, Riviera Beach, FL

WHO: Government and Port Officials representing both countries, along with Port of Palm Beach Commissioners and esteemed guests.
The Republic of Lithuania's Ambassador Vygaudas Ušackas and Honorary Consulate Stanley Balzekas will be among the first group. The former Consul General of Barbados, Ben Martinez, will attend with the second group.
Remarks and Photo Opportunity are welcomed.

WHY: While attending the international trade event Seatrade in Miami, a delegation from The Republic of Lithuania, including its ambassador, honorary consulate and members from Port of Klaipeda, Lithuania, will visit during the day after accepting Port of Palm Beach's Chairman George Mastics' invitation.
Also attending Seatrade are key members of the Port of Bridgetown, Barbados, along with their country's former Consul General, who have accepted an invitation, offered by Port of Palm Beach Commissioner Wayne Richards while the Port visited Barbados in February for their second trade mission to Barbados and Trinidad.
Both groups will be introduced to the Port of Palm Beach and given a tour of the facilities. However, the first group's visit will include a sit-down lunch from 11:00 a.m. -12:00 p.m., while the second group's visit will conclude with a reception on the Palm Beach Princess from 5:00 p.m. – 6:00 p.m.
